

Leaders in EV Charging Installation
& Home Electrification

Qmerit is leading the charge in electrification—the shift from fossil fuels to a more sustainable, electric-powered future. We’re making the energy transition easy for everyone by connecting all stakeholders around the shared goal of delivering exceptional installation experiences for homeowners.

Only select electrical service providers earn the exclusive Qmerit certification, a symbol of excellence in electrification. You can depend on Qmerit-certified partners to provide trusted installation solutions that meet the highest standards for safety and service quality.

All Qmerit Certified Solutions Partners are market leaders in electrification services and:

- Expert consultants and installers for all home electrification technologies
- Properly licensed, fully insured and thoroughly background-checked
- Compliant with all applicable worker’s compensation guidelines
- Required to secure permits to verify installations meet local building codes
- Trained continuously on safety, industry best practices and the latest technologies
- Experienced in working with all major technology brands